ABOUT ROCP

- Regional Occupational Centers & Programs (ROCP) began in 1969. ROCPs are state-funded and part of the California public school system. There are 72 ROCPs Statewide.
- ROCPs utilize industry-experienced, credentialed teachers to prepare students for successful careers.
- ROCPs provide high school and adult students, who are college bound or work bound, the opportunity to experience a variety of occupations.
- ROCPs teach students essential employability skills such as teamwork, communication, and work ethics.
- ROCPs offer career guidance, business-based internships, and job placement assistance.
- ROCP course offerings are based upon current and future labor market demands.

Success Starts HereSM ...ROCP RESULTS

- ROCP has effective partnerships with business & industry. Statewide, 35,000 businesses serve as ROCP internship sites and 18,000 industry leaders review ROCP curriculum annually.
- Over half a million people have been trained by California's ROCPs during the last school year. More than 80% have since secured employment or are furthering their education, ('98-'99 ROCP Statewide Study)
- ROCP is acknowledged in California as the most cost-effective delivery system of career preparation for high school students and adults.

A statewide professional association for business leaders and ROCP employees.
